Weakness in Copper Caused Whole List to Sag.

LIQUIDATING IN THE VANDERBILTS

Public is Shy of Investments Under Present Conditions.

GENERAL MARKET REPORTS

Special Dispatch to The Evening Star.

NEW YORK, September 30,-In sympathy with London the local stock market opened at irregular changes from the closing parity, but the undertone was distinctly fa-

The indications are that there is a lack of harmony among the millionaire interest and that the actions of one portion of that influential circle do not meet the approval nor suit the commitments of the other por-

The recent decline in Amalgamated Copper seems to be entirely warranted by the conditions of the trade, in which overproduction is a conspicuous adverse factor. The fact that the stock is allowed to sell under 90, however, gives rise to the belief that insiders withheld the facts from the public until their own holdings were marketed. In allowing Copper to break the entire market has been threatened to the extent that the public refuses to come in and buy the stocks of more deserving prop-

Many speculative pools are consequently loaded well up to their capacity with propreties that have no good liquidating mar-ket. Repeated newspaper attacks upon Copper methods and the rather plain talk used in criticism of certain consolidation schemes have made higher prices more or less impossible for the present.

The Vanderbilt group showed signs of profit taking today, and the holding-company plan is said to be too far in the future to warrant hasty action.

This group has been the bulwark of the market for more than a week, and its lack of snap today was discouraging. Less was heard of the amouncements to be made upon the return of Mr. W. K. Vanderöllt during the present week.

during the present week.

Standard Oil influence dominates the policy of Amalgamated Copper, so that the prospect of Union Pacific getting a new director with strong Standard Oil affiliations failed to arouse the interest that might have been expected a month ago. The stock sold down over 1 per cent during the morning, but was given some support at the low level. St. Paul was sold by London and traders, in spite of the suggestion that developments are making for closer relations with Union Pacific. The Gould stocks were weak as the result of the selling of Missouri Pacific and the evident lack of inside support.

While no serious declines were recorded and while none are likely perhaps, the tendency of today's trading would indicate a rather widespread confidence in the prospect of huving stories to better advantage. pect of buying stocks to better advantage before the year is out. The point to consider is whether the stocks selling above value will be equal to dragging those of undoubted merit toward temporarily lower plane.

In the opinion of certain good judges, this is not unlikely. Active money would contribute to this end, as would also the verification of recent suspicions that some old grudges are to be paid off before long. The steel strike was not conducted along lines entirely harmonious, it is said, and the tension of waiting for a public demand to make profit for all concerned may lead to some nervous attack at the least desirable throughout the country. The latter will prevail in the long run, but the former suggest the wisdom of patience and extreme caution. The buying on the declines is very as insignificant as indicated in certain opti-

"It is the opinion of the reviewing authority that the punishment adjudged by the court is not a sufficient penalty for the flagitious act the prisoner was found to have committed. It is not within the power of the reviewing authority to increase the punishment; but in order that the prisoner may not wholly escape punishment the senmay not wholly escape punishment the sentence is approved and will be duly executed at Fort Columbus, New York, to which place the prisoner will be sent under proper guard."

London's First Restaurant.

The restaurant, we are now being told, is one of the caused of the decay of domesticity. Yet this pleasant means of emancipation dates that to the reign of Henry II. In Fitzstephens' account of London we have a number of the first public food shop then existing on the river bank: "There meats may be found every day," writes the old Norman chronicler, "according to the season, fried and boiled, great and small fish, coarser meats for the poor, mere dainty for the rich, game fowls and small birds. If, then, there should come suddenly to a citizen friends weary from a journey and too hungry to like waiting, then, with water for their hands, comes bread, whilst one hies to the river bank and there is all that can be wanted." Read dispassionately the latter portion of this account seems to us to argue a certain want of domesticity even among the Norman matrons.

TREATMENT OF ANARCHY.

Dr. Thompson's Method of Dealing At the Methodist preachers' meeting, held this morning at Foundry M. E. Church, the topic for discussion was "The Attitude of the Government Toward Anarchy." A large number of the local clergymen were present at the session and close attention was paid to a paper entitled "What Should Be the Attitude of Our Government Toward Anarchy?" by Rev. A. H. Thompson, pastor of Wilson Memorial Church.

Dr. Thompson quoted extensively from the publications of the day on the subject now attracting the attention of the world and his remarks were favorably received by espionage. He also advocates legislation which shall make an attempt on the life of the chief executive a capital offense, and says if anarchists shall set up the plea of insanity that they should be treated as dangerously insane and incarcerated in archist colony, where all the avowed an archists shall be confined; the co-operation of all the civilized governments for the suppression of anarchy; legislation speedily enacted for the prevention of the spread of aharchy in this country, and also providing

NAVAL WAR COLLEGE.

The Summer Course Considered to Have Been Highly Successful. Acting Secretary Hackett has received a report from Capt. Chadwick, president of the Naval War College, announcing the close of the summer course of instruction for officers. "I think I may say justly," says Captain Chadwick, "that the course has been highly successful, and the officers in attendance, all of whom were of superior rank, and a number of high rank have left with a feeling of its great utility to themselves personally and of its importance to the service. They have expressed themselves in this regard very freely, and it is a pleasure to me to convey their opinions to the department."
